Son of Mr. R. W. Powell, of Jubilee Cottage, Upper Colwall, Malvern.

Havrincourt village was stormed by the 62nd (West Riding) Division on 20 November 1917. It was lost on 23 March 1918, but it was retaken on 12 September by the 62nd Division, who held it against a counter-attack the following day. Lowrie Cemetery was made by the 3rd Division Burial Officer at the beginning of October 1918, and named after him. The cemetery now contains 251 First World War burials. Frederick Powell is buried in Row D. Grave 7.

Frederick George Powell was born in Colwall in 1891 one of two sons of Randolph William and Harriet Powell. William Powell was a general labourer and the family lived at The Wyche. In 1911 Frederick was living at home and was also a general labourer. Frederick enlisted in Malvern and joined the King's Shropshire Light Infantry. He was with the 7th Battalion when he was killed in an attack on positions on the Canal du Nord in September 1918. He is buried in Lowrie Cemetery. He is also commemorated on the War Memorial in All Saints' The Wyche.
